

An introduction to InsuranceWorks.ie

Insurance Works has been operating in Dublin for several years and has established a reputation for quality, both in construction work and in management of insurance claims. The business is based on a systematic approach and uses an in-house developed database which allows effective and efficient management of insurance claims. Insurance Works is a growing business in a construction related sector, that is not impacted by the economic down turn. Floods still happen, pipes burst, fires start, wind damages roofs, vehicle drive into walls etc - in general, accidents and acts of god have no respect to banking led recessions! (Note: this is a very profitable business, 2010 was the most profitable year yet and 2011 is currently even busier!)

"....I have a rented house in Clondalkin which had a leak in the roof, I seen an ad for insuranceworks in the local newspaper, it sounded too good to be true but I gave them a call anyways. Insuranceworks had somebody call out to me that day who told me how everything was going to work and that It wasn't going to cost me any money at all. I just signed the form and insuranceworks repaired the roof.

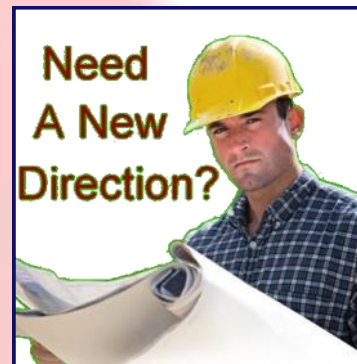

I don't think you could better than that...."
